Looking up to his idol Sushmita Bhattacharya

In 1992, Pradeep was invited to anchor a programme for Sushmita Bhattacharya. Pradeep was so impressed by Bhattacharya that he took her as his idol. Pradeep had a long association with Doodhbari's New Year Eve and took part in numerous TV shows. A B.A. graduate holder from Maharashtra, New Delhi, in G.D. Chaudhary and Film Society (Classical). Pradeep's career has a new high when he was selected for the TV's 'Laughter Challenge'.

With Sushmita

"While performing, we have to be conscious of the sensibilities of our audience. Lulu is an ideal audience," says the 40-year-old who prepares for his shows by reading joke books by authors like Kishore Singh. He then improvises them as per the audience response.

Performers like Pradeep have driven home the point that humour has great importance in our life. He has succeeded in making people around him happy. He wife, Roshni, an accomplished classical dancer, has inspired Pradeep to focus on his artistic capabilities and scale new heights in the world of performing arts.
